Put hazardous waste where it belongs ...

Protect your home and health . . . Many of the products we use every day are toxic. But it doesn't take extraordinary effort to protect yourself, your family and pets from accidental poisoning. Here's how:

- Learn to identify household hazardous waste. Products used for home improvements, cleaning, hobbies, car maintenance and yard care can be highly toxic. Watch for key words like "caustic," "toxic," "hazardous," "corrosive" or "flammable" on the label.
- Read product labels. Pay close attention to warnings, precautionary handling instructions and use guidelines.
- Store home toxics in a cool, dry place out of reach of children and pets.
- Dispose of home toxics properly. If you wouldn't drink it, don't dump it! Contact your solid waste management district.
